This organization is dedicated to the idea that our musical heritage is an important resource to be celebrated and preserved for future generations. The Hall will be a place to inspire, entertain, educate and engage each person in the creative process. The Long Island Music Hall of Fame has inducted over 100 artists of many genres including Billy Joel, Tony Bennett, Joan Jett, Cyndi Lauper, Run-DMC, Kenny Vance, Jean Richie, Louis Armstrong, Stanley Drucker, Oscar Brand and Donnie McClurkin.

Paramount to our organization's success continues to be our Educational Programs. In the future, our planned museum and resource center will endeavor to satisfy the NY State Educational core curriculum and be open to Long Island schools to supplement and enhance their current music programs.

Recognizing that education is the key to the development of musicians, we are interested in celebrating the work of those who allow young people to explore their talents. The recipient of the Music Educator of Note Award will be someone who has worked with children in public, private or regional programs. Following the initial nomination, the committee will seek additional information incorporating the references of students, colleagues, parents and administrators.

We request your assistance in nominating an outstanding music educator from your district. LIMHOF accepts applications from teachers affiliated with institutions of higher education in Brooklyn, Nassau, Queens and Suffolk.

Please feel free to copy and pass on the application to other educational leaders or download copies at www.limusichalloffame.org. All nominations must be received by September 30, 2020. All previous nominees are eligible for consideration, and past applications will be reviewed. Successful nominees will receive a Certificate of Merit from the Long Island Music Hall of Fame. The winner will be honored at our November 5th, 2020 Gala at The Tilles Center.
